Amount Of New Taxes To Be Asked Is Lowered By President

Truman Scales His Tax Demands To Ten Billions

Reduction Is Made From Original Call For 16.5 Billion Boost

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Truman today scaled down his tax demands but insisted that Congress speedily enact his request for a 10 billion dollar tax boost including four billions in new personal income levies.

Treasury Secretary Snyder revealed that the administration is postponing until January any demand for new taxes above the 10 billions already requested.

The administration's program originally called for a 16.5 billion dollar tax boost in two installments. It still insists upon the first installment of 10 billions but is postponing the second request for 6.5 billions.

Treasury Secretary Snyder told the House Ways and Means Committee that the delay in additional levies is possible because of a brighter light picture.

Anticipates Surplus
He anticipated a three billion dollar surplus for the 1951 fiscal year ending June 30, instead of the 2.7 billion dollar deficit estimated by the president in January.

Snyder also declared that revenue for the 1952 fiscal year beginning July 1 is now estimated as likely to reach three billion dollars more than previously anticipated.

This would cut down the 16 and one-half billion dollar deficit for 1952, which the president forecast last January, to 13 and one-half billions.

In addition, Snyder stated that Winter is dying hard in western Pennsylvania. It's still influencing the weather report. For day there will be cloudy and cooler and a possibility of light snow or rain in the extreme south portion. Tomorrow also will be cloudy and cool.

Many churches about the district witnessed the post-Easter slump on Sunday, Pa. News is told. In many cases the attendances were down considerably, but a number of churches dropped only slightly. Pa. News learned. Attendances will be most cases, hold their own until vacation period arrives and then will decline sharply.

Many cars have been left standing along the streets bearing last year's license plates, indicating the owners have not received their new tags yet or have decided not to reorder the plates, due to the oldness of the family vehicle.

After a few days postponement due to wet weather, the State Highway department resumed its large patchwork program over the county this morning. Work is being done in scattered sections of the area in order to restore the roads to their former condition for a while at least. More permanent work is promised at a later date.

Pa. News noticed another sign that spring is just around the corner, when a few sprigs of forsythia, were seen in bloom at the corner of Highland and Norwood avenue. Soon these early harbingers of spring will burst forth in golden glory.

Senate To Settle Troops For Europe Debate Today

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Administration forces won their first test of strength on the troops for Europe issue today when the senate rejected a proposal to ban European duty for U. S. soldiers under 20 years of age.

The vote was 62 to 27.

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Senate settles the troops for Europe debate today, with voting dramatized by Defense Mobilizer Wilson's report of steadily increasing European military strength.

Wilson reported to President Truman that Western Europe already has more than two million men under arms, and will double arms production this year.

The Senate will work overtime—meeting at 10 a. m. instead of noon—to finish voting on two resolutions endorsing dispatch of American troops to Gen. Eisenhower's force to defend the west against the threat of Communist aggression.

Closest test of administration strength will come on a motion to send the resolutions back to committee for revision into a measure with the force of law.

Before voting, however, the Senate will join the House to hear French President Auriol, who is expected to tell the joint session that France will do its share in the defense of Europe.

Believes U.S. Is Now 'Safer' From Russian Attack

By FELIX COTTEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Defense Mobilizer Wilson believes today that the nation is "measurably safer" from Russian attack than it was at the outbreak of the Korean war.

The mobilization chief declared in his first quarterly report that the expanding armed force and armament programs of the United States and her Allies will allow the west to meet any challenge by 1953.

Wilson said that both the U. S. and western Europe have already doubled their arms output and will redouble it in another year.

The report pointed out that the expanding arms program will call for three to four million new workers in the near future.

The mobilization official declared that some of the required manpower will be drawn from non-defense industries, but that most

Aged Brothers Meet For First Time In Lives

A week end visit, which had been postponed for nearly 50 years, united two brothers and a sister in New Castle and served as an introduction of one of the men to his brother, whom he had never seen before, due to a chain of circumstances, dating back to the late 1800's in Sweden.

Eighty one year old Ed Johnson of Beckford street, who has spent most of his life in the west section, was pleasantly surprised when his younger brother, Alfred F. Johnson, aged 61, of Minneapolis, walked in on him, to bring the brothers together for the first time in their lives.

To further add to the excitement, Mrs. Oscar Carlson, aged 75, of 135 East Garfield avenue, a sister of the three men, greeted her brother Al for the first time in

Probe Spotlight May Be Turned On Ship Sales

Senate Investigators To Look Into Sales Of Surplus Ships

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Senate investigators prepared today to spotlight on the Maritime Commission and its sale of surplus ships after World War II.

An inquiry into the ship sales program—with particular attention to a deal in which the late Secretary of State Edward Stettinius and Fleet Adm. William Halsey were interested—is on an air-though there is a question as to whom would do the job.

The Fulbright "influence" subcommittee has first crack at the probe, since it turned up the transaction involving Stettinius and Halsey during a hearing on operations of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

May Launch Probe
Senate Commerce Committee Chairman Johnson (D. Colo.), has already stepped into the picture, however, and has given every indication that he is getting ready to launch a full-scale inquiry.

There is also a chance that the Senate's No. 1 investigating body, the subcommittee headed by Sen. Hoey (D. S. C.), which exposed the "five percenters" in 1949, may be asked to enter the investigation.

Interest in the Maritime ship sales was kindled when former Congressman Joseph Casey (R. Mass.), now a Washington lawyer, testified at RFC hearings that he and his associates made $2.8 million in profits on a $100,000 investment.

Three Doomed Slayers Given Short Reprieve

BELLEfonte, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Three doomed slayers won at least a 48 hour lease on life today, just 30 minutes before they were scheduled to die in Pennsylvania's electric chair.

A telephone call from Gov. John S. Fine's office to Rockview penitentiary stayed the triple execution until a decision by the state supreme court on a petition by one of the men.

The trio—David Darcy, 26, Harold Foster, 26, and Harry Zietz, 22, all of Philadelphia—had been sentenced to death for killing two bystanders during a 1947 tavern holdup in Easterville, Pa.

Ready For Chair
All three had been completely prepared for the electric chair. Their heads had been shaved and their left trouser legs had been split to accommodate one of the chair's electrodes.

"Thank God," Darcy cried when a deputy warden read the governor's statement.

"What time is it?" was the only remark Zietz could muster.

Foster said nothing immediately, but burst into an excited babble when the deputy left to inform his business affairs.

KOREA—Tank-tipped United Nations patrols again pushed north of the 38th parallel north and northeast of Seoul through Chinese rear guards severing enemy buildup in the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Hwachon triangle (1). Chinese were reported massing up to 300,000 men for the expected all-out smash to split the 140 mile front in two. Hwachon is the likely point for the "human sea" assault. Only sharp fighting was on the central front above Chunchon (2) where Reds fought hard to keep Allies away from the frontier. On the east coast, South Koreans extended the bulge (3) north of the border to 12 miles in depth and up to 15 miles in width.

Truman Seeks Continuance Of E.C.A. On Global Basis

By ROBERT B. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Truman announced today that he will ask congress to continue the Economic Corporation Administration on a global basis to help the free world rearm against aggression.

The president said that economic recovery of western Europe under the Marshall plan has been "substantially" a year ahead of schedule but that he wants the ECA maintained to abet the arms program.

Statement By President
The announcement was contained in a statement by the president read at the third anniversary celebration of the foreign aid program.

The Marshall plan initially was to have run for four years.

Due to the rapid economic recovery of European nations, the ECA spent 40 per cent less in the period from January to November 1950 compared to the similar period in 1949.

During this time $2,431,200,000 was spent in Europe against $3,536,800,000 spent for the same period in 1949.

England became the first country to suspend Marshall plan payments because of its recovery. Beginning in January of this year, Britain no longer received ECA aid.

Governor Fine Stands Firm On Tax Plans

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 2.—Gov. John S. Fine's proposed tax outline for the 1951-53 biennium was unaltered today despite criticism from some Republicans as well as Democrats.

Top Republican legislative leaders met with the governor in a lengthy session last night to weigh opposition and to discuss the outlook for the tax and budget programs.

Following the meeting, House Majority Leader Charles C. Smith said "no changes are contemplated."

Subjected To Controversy
The tax program has been subjected to controversy ever since Fine called for a one-half of one per cent personal income tax to raise approximately 119 million dollars of the 163 million needed in new revenue for the biennium opening June 1. The balance of additional money could come from a one per cent hike in the corporate net income tax.

By LEE FERRERO

TOKYO, April 2.—Tank-riding GIs probed two miles above Parallel 38 in west Korea today, nibbling at the crust of an assembly area where some half million Red troops were massed for an expected giant counter-push.

On the ridge-dotted central front, Chinese forces began unexpectedly a banding strong defense a few miles south of the parallel. Along the eastern seaboard, South Korean vanguards, aided by U. S. naval gunfire, speared 12 miles inside North Korea:

Estimated 500,000 Enemy

As the main Allied forces drew abreast of the pre-war border in the west and center, Eighth Army sources estimated 300,000 fresh Chinese troops and 200,000 North Korean soldiers, re-equipped with Russian tanks and guns, were poised farther north.

DOVER, N. J., April 2.—(INS)—A 16-year-old boy marksman will be returned from Delaware to Dover, N. J., today to be formally charged with murdering two aunts and an uncle because they insisted he stay home nights.

New Jersey authorities said William Nickle, a member of the Dover high school rifle team, fled to the home of his parents in Hartley, Del., after the killings.

Police said Nickle made a confession. The murders apparently were carried out late Saturday night but were not discovered until yesterday. The boy's parents, suspicious of his return home, checked with relatives in Dover and the three bodies were found.

According to police, the boy had been brooding for six months because he was caught using the family car and thereafter was restricted to home at night.

Senate Probe Committee Starts Writing New Laws

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The senate crime committee starts today to write new laws putting the heat on nationwide crime and the mobsters who control it.

Particular attention is expected to be paid to new communications, income tax and naturalization legislation, to curb race news, check underworld income and make deportation of naturalized mobsters more easy.

The committee also is expected to propose tougher fines and jail sentences for narcotics law violators, and to forbid use of the mails in connection with gambling—to block sending payoff money through the mail.

A leading character in the crime committee's dramatic hearings, Frank Costello, urged that gambling be brought out from under the table and made legal.

Developments
Meanwhile, there were these developments:

1. The committee's chief counsel, Rudolph Halley, undergoes an operation in a New York hospital today for an internal disorder. If the operation is a success, it is expected he will be back at work helping to write the group's report within 10 days.

2. Chairman Kefauver (D. Tenn.), described as "ridiculous" suggestions that he might be the next

Cigarette Case On Trial Today

Civil Court Opens In Court House

The case of the loaded cigarette went to trial this morning in Court Room No. 1 of the Lawrence County Court House. Judge W. Walter Braham is hearing the case. Esther Guanciale is suing the Loyal Order of Moose, Lodge No. 51, for damages incurred when a loaded cigarette exploded in her face in the club rooms of the organization. She claims heavy damage for injuries to her eye.

She claims she was a guest in the club on the night of November 5, 1949, and was in the room where the slot machines were located. She asked for a cigarette and claims Ronald Fulkerson handed her one which exploded after it was lit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paglia testified this morning to the fact that Miss Guanciale was their guest in the club rooms and told of Miss Guanciale getting the cigarette and of it exploding. The case appears to be in for a thorough hearing as four attorneys are trying it, two for each side.

In Court Room No. 2 the case of William and Martha Eppinger against James Marzula went to trial before Judge John G. Lamoree. This is a case where minor damages are claimed for an automobile accident at South Mill and Water streets on October 14, 1950.

literature for distribution and study among the local people who eagerly sought knowledge about the subject. This practitioner opened an office for the practice of healing as taught in Christian Science. It was in this office that the first students gathered to read the lesson sermons as outlined in the Christian Science Quarterly Bible Lessons. As the group increased in numbers, it became necessary to seek larger quarters to accommodate them. These were found in the Wallace block; later on a move was made into the Union Trust bank.

Society Formed

In the spring of 1907 a Christian Science society was formed and a Sunday school established. The first reading rooms were also opened at this time, where all authorized Christian Science literature could be read, borrowed or purchased.

In December 1922 the society incorporated under the laws of the state of Pennsylvania, to become the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of New Castle, gaining recognition as such from the mother church in Boston, Mass., in January 1923.

Built In 1927

The present property was purchased in 1922 but construction of the church building was not started until 1926. The present edifice was completed in 1927.

The first church services were held on Sunday, July 31, 1927, where services and Sunday school have been conducted ever since. This is the church home that the members have so gratefully dedicated on this joyous occasion.

In his statement, the president paid tribute to the Marshall plan program for restoring the economy of the western European nations.

most 50 years, although separated by only 1,000 miles.

Hjalmar Johnson, who lives at 916 Boro Line street and is rounding out his 77th year, was also privileged to join in on the celebration as it has been 48 years since he has seen his long absent brother.

Born In Sweden
The Johnson family, it seems, was born in Uddevalla, Sweden, and with the lure of the United States confronting them they decided that this country should be their future home although they were not fortunate enough to make the trip together. Some of the family had already embarked and settled here before Al got around to making the trip.

Ed. Hjalmar and Mrs. Carlson migrated to western Pennsylvania, choosing to cast their lot with the folks of Lawrence county, while Al settled farther west, making his home in Minneapolis, where many of his race had settled.

Alfred is a successful building contractor in the mid-west, while Ed and Hjalmar followed the steel trade, retiring from that work, although the latter is presently working with the Castle Roofing company. Mrs. Carlson, who is not as active as she formerly was, is confined to her home with illness.

To be certain, the family group lost no time in reviving memories of scenes together in their native Sweden, although recollections were a bit hazy due to the early years in life that they were separated.

Mrs. Willis L. Campbell

Mrs. Willis L. Campbell, aged 86 years, nee Harriet E. Dinsmore, died Sunday at 8 a. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul R. Mayberry, Western Reserve road, Poland, after an illness of complications due to advanced age. She was a former resident of 714 Chestnut street, this city. Her husband preceded her in death in 1926.

Born March 1, 1865, in New Castle, she was a daughter of Watson N. and Margaret E. Sankey Dinsmore. Mrs. Campbell was a member of a pioneer family of Lawrence county. She was a charter member of Rachel Rebekah lodge and resided in Poland for ten years.

ants have decided to push the tax bills through the house unchanged after allowing Democratic assemblymen to air objections to the proposals.

They are eveling the senate, however, with some uneasiness because of a hard core of five Republican senators who have left no doubt of their dislike for the income proposal. Sen. G. Grashill, Diehm, R. Lancaster, who helped boost Fine into the governor's seat, is leader of the senate opposition.

Significantly, Fine has seen fit on two occasions to spank Majority Leader John M. Walker for left handed criticism of the proposals.

Casey refused to reveal the names of his associates, but Maritime Commission records showed that Stettinius had a 10 per cent interest, Halsey 5 per cent, and Julian C. Holmes, U. S. Minister and Counselor in London, had 10 per cent.

Casey said that he made a personal profit of $270,000 on his 20 per cent investment—$20,000.

Sen. Johnson disclosed that a report on the transaction, provided by Commerce Secretary Sawyer, showed that the ships are now owned by a "Charitable Corporation for the Benefit of Chinese" and said he wanted to look further into that.

TRUMAN SCALES TAX DEMANDS TO 10 BILLION

expenditures, which the president set at 71 billions, may also be less than previously estimated.

Slower Expenditures
Snyder, winding up two months of public hearings on the president's tax program, said the brightened fiscal picture for this year and the next results from unexpectedly large revenue collections and a slower rate of defense expenditures than expected.

He warned, however, that "from now on the government will be spending at a faster rate than it will be collecting unless its revenues are increased by additional tax legislation."

Snyder, therefore, strongly urged the committee to approve quickly new tax legislation designed to bring in an additional 10 billion dollars in revenue.

Urge Tax Boosts

He reiterated the administration's demand for a boost of four billion dollars in individual income taxes and three billions each in corporation and excise levies.

Snyder, in urging that the committee act quickly declared: "Let me say emphatically as I know how that the fiscal problems facing us now are as grave as any which have confronted this country in recent years and can be resolved only by forceful and timely revenue legislation."

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

French President Pushes Plan

An intensive effort to "set the record straight" with regard to France's firm stand against aggression has been launched by President Vincent Auriol today and will gain momentum before he leaves for home.

The quiet but forceful statesman from the south of France has branded as an "insult" any implication that Frenchmen would not fight if invaded or attacked.

He can safely say that he speaks for millions—surely the vast majority—of his countrymen.

The controversial statement by French Communist leader Maurice Thorez that French workers would not fight a Communist army entering France on a presumed role of "liberation" never sat well with the rank and file.

As a matter of fact, it contributed in large measure to the decline of Communism in France. An anti-Communist speaker needs only to quote Thorez to provoke general indignation. Many Frenchmen are Communists politically and content they are able to maintain this allegiance without sullying their devotion to France.

Purpose Is Two-Fold

The initial speeches of Auriol in Washington show that the purpose of his visit is two-fold.

First is to reaffirm the friendship of France for the United States. Second is to reassure any and all doubters that France is prepared again to do her part in an emergency.

There is no question that the France of today is somewhat misunderstood. Communist propaganda has been effective in presenting the country as a divided mass of disunity. Defeatism, apathy and disillusion have been stressed almost to the exclusion of constructive factors.

Yet it is nevertheless true that since the end of the war, France has pursued an unswerving foreign policy of cooperation with the West. It is also a fact that this policy has been directed from the beginning by two men—Robert Schuman, now Foreign Minister, and his predecessor, George Bidault, who is now President of the Council.

Numerous Crises

There have been numerous government crises since the war ended and a constant succession of changing premiers. But these two men, of identical minds in foreign affairs, have been at the helm of foreign policy from the beginning.

It is sometimes forgotten that the old nations of Europe follow a traditional policy of permanent civil regimes which do not change regardless of political trends.

These are formed of men more or less above politics, who plan long-range policies which virtually nothing short of a revolution can alter.

Thus while a government can go out of office overnight on a taxation issue or a housing project, there is no change in the fundamental structure of the government itself.

Schuman's Plan

It was for this reason that Schuman was able to cling so tenaciously to his famous plan for the pooling of European coal and steel resources.

The framework of this proposal has been initiated and a major hurdle has just been cleared by British sanction for inclusion of Ruhr Valley resources.

Great Britain is not yet a participant and will not become one until she is convinced that the plan is practical.

But by placing the seal of approval on Ruhr inclusion, she has given the Schuman project a new impetus.

Auriol has stressed the full

Elimination of the spare tire on new cars will cause great hardships. . . . You will have to walk all the way across the street to buy the extra tire at a gas station.

But these are hard times and drastic measures are necessary if we are to win whatever we are out to win as of today.

General MacArthur tried to wrap up the Korean campaign with a truce arranged in the field and got replies from Washington and Peiping which read the same in translation.

Both capitals seemed to feel it would be a mistake to end the fighting while both are armed so vigorously for peace.

And there are dozens of speeches still to be made and besides the weather is just getting nice.

And if nothing else, we need a diversionary movement away from the Fulbright and Kefauver revelations.

If it wasn't for Korea, you'd find people getting curiously and curiously about officials' morals, but at the moment our attention is divided.

They Say

CHICAGO—Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania: "Strenuous efforts are being made in Russia to infect a jet intercept missile which will automatically fly to and destroy a bomber just as a nail is attracted to a magnet."

CINCINNATI—Senator Robert A. Taft: "We can easily, without our general means, obtain full control of sea and air."

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va.—Robert C. Jackson, executive vice-president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute: "The real answer to price stabilization lies in production."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—President Jacob S. Potofsky of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America: "Labor has reached the point in history where it is going to exert itself politically as never before."

cooperation that France is giving to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in his efforts to create a North Atlantic Defense Force. By circumstances or design, the western allies have slowed down with regard to German rearmament, and this has served to stimulate the French effort.

There are many Frenchmen willing to double their own sacrifices in the effort of keeping the Germans out of uniform.

Thus far at least, Auriol has received a remarkably "good press." The French have a happy faculty of choosing presidents who truly know how to make friends and influence people.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HAVE A VEGETABLE GARDEN

Knowing the nutritional value of most garden vegetables, parents who have the space have good reasons to plant a liberal number of these vegetables. Of course, vegetables plucked from right out of your own garden not only taste better but also are richer in vitamins than those purchased at the market, and not only may we, with home gardens, reduce our own food costs but also contribute to the general food supply and thus do our patriotic bit.

There's so much space unused that could be turned to gardens. Nor is rich soil or even fertilizer needed for many of the vegetables. A tomato plant will flourish in almost any kind of soil. Some resourceful persons find a little corner here or one there for a plant or more. So also string beans can be planted at various times during the next few months in most parts of the country.

Lettuce is very easily grown. If a few square feet of lettuce is sown every two or three weeks from now till late in August, the family can have fresh lettuce of high vitamin content all summer. Beets and carrots, too, take very little space and don't need very rich soil. Your county agent can give you good advice on vegetables suited to your space and type of soil; and you can also learn much from the garden columns of a newspaper, even from seed catalogs.

Many wise teachers help children gain good information on such matters and many children have school gardens. Stimulated with gardening interest at school, the child should be a better gardener at home. Now is the time for schools to put added emphasis on this type of education.

A Garden Plot The child who has a garden plot at home of his own, which he plants and cultivates faithfully, has a child who has a pet, the strong initial interest of this child may soon wear unless stimulated by the parents. They need to exercise considerable skill whether the child is six or much older, helping him at times and often working in his garden for the child to neglect his own garden can do him moral harm, while for him to see it through to fruition can net him rich character values.

The 4-H clubs and similar organizations have stimulated gardening zeal and responsibility in many a youngster over ten or twelve and this stimulation is so much more effective when parents cooperate; when they not only show appreciation of the child's endeavors but help or encourage him at strategic points, or even require him sometimes to carry through his garden project.

Official Arrival Of The Spring Fever Season

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Presidential Duties Contrasted

WASHINGTON, April 2.—In Temperament President Auriol and President Truman seem to have many points in common. They are both unpretentious, kindly men who stand in the sudden glare of the spotlight with a certain diffidence.

But when it comes to their respective jobs, the difference is extraordinary. And this contrast is sharply pointed up by the state visit which the president of France and Madame Auriol are now paying to Washington.

In Paris President Auriol lives in historic Elysee Palace. He is the chief ceremonial officer of the government on a nonpolitical basis. More nearly like a constitutional monarch rather than a president in the American sense. With the practical day-to-day affairs of the French government he has little or no contact.

The American president must carry both the ceremonial burden and the work of the chief administrative officer in the most powerful nation in the world. In France he would be both prime minister and president.

Becoming Impossible Office Increasingly as a consequence it is becoming an impossible office. President Truman now has an opportunity—to show what the burden is and how it can and must be alleviated. Let him appoint a committee of inquiry to explore how the office has evolved in recent decades with ever new burdens piled in chaotic fashion upon the unfortunate individual at the focus of power. To insure the greatest possible acceptance for the findings of such a committee both the Supreme Court and Congress should have a part in naming its members.

A move of this kind would not be out of character for Mr. Truman. With some not too important exceptions, he has an excellent record of cooperation in seeking to get the recommendations of the Hoover Commission on reorganization of the government carried out.

On the political level, too, such an inquiry might serve the purposes of both the nation and the president. If Mr. Truman has in fact decided not to seek another term in the White House, a commission of inquiry on the presidency could take him out of the picture without diminishing his authority which has in any event been reduced in Congress almost to the vanishing point. The way would be opened for the Democrats to prepare another candidate who would not be directly entangled with the Truman administration.

To show what a hedgehog the office of the presidency has become would be to prepare the way for clarification and redefinition of the powers and responsibilities of the president. The ceremonial side of the job may seem comparatively minor. Yet in a week such as the one now ending, with Washington crowded with distinguished visitors, it would be interesting to know the exact number of hours which the president has had to devote to public speaking, hand-shaking and other rituals of protocol and courtesy.

The visit of M. and Mme. Auriol has a high symbolic value. It is one of those festive occasions recalling the long history that links the two republics from the time of Lafayette through World War II.

Obscure Realities But it does seem sometimes as though the preoccupation with the ceremonial surface and with a ritualistic exchange threatens to obscure the realities that are so close beneath that surface. As American diplomatic missions in Europe and Asia grow larger and larger, more and more time is spent in winning and dining each other and the diplomats of the missions of other nations.

While the reason may not be the ceremonial wrappings, a question is arising as to validity and the thoroughness of the reports from American representatives abroad. Both government and public want to hear that everything is going well for our side in the contest between east and west. But reports which cater to the desire to be told that all is for the best in the best possible of worlds are not worth very much.

Have Closed Ranks Italy is a case in point. Some weeks ago news stories indicated a crack in the Italian Communist front. A potential split of major proportions seemed more than a possibility. Now that possibility has disappeared and the Italian Communists have closed ranks. The De Gasperi government either did not or could not help broaden the schism that had temporarily opened up in the powerful Red front.

The American taxpayer wants to know whether the Marshal Plan has been truly effective in building economic strength in countries devastated by the Nazi occupation and the war of liberation that followed. This touches directly the question of whether communism can achieve by an attack from within what it may be stopped from doing by a frontal attack from without. If this is not the case, then all the ceremonies in the world will not make up for the lack.

Just Folks

OUR SITTER PROBLEM We had just two sitters problems in the days when they were small.

With two quickly found solutions, as I frequently recall. One was: "Could we take the children?" (not too often I admit.)

And the other was: "Would either of the grandmas come to sit?"

This modern sitters problem was a care we didn't know. If we couldn't take the children we decided not to go.

And if neither of the grandmas could come in and let us room. We forgot about the party and decided to stay home.

I'm old fashioned and I know it, and the sitting custom's new. But this trusting them to strangers was a thing we didn't do.

I say: "Take the children with you, but, if not, then I suggest. If you must leave some one sitting, either grandma does it best."

SUCCESS! In his message to Congress on January 8 President Truman said: "Our programs of economic aid have done much to turn back communism."

Addressing the House on January 9 Congresswoman Katherine St. George, of New York, responded: "Where has communism been turned back? In 1945 the Soviet Union and her satellites controlled a little over 300-million people. Today they control over 800 million people. If that is turning back communism, I should like to see some other method tried!"—Cong. Record, Jan. 9, page 1241.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

Arousing Suspicion And Ill Will

WASHINGTON, April 2.—One of the great tragedies of the Washington scene is the almost complete disappearance of anything like the bipartisan foreign policy which seemed so great a national asset during the days of Senator Vandenberg's chairmanship of the Foreign Affairs Committee and even later when he still had his health and was the recognized leader of his party in the Senate on matters of foreign policy.

There are, of course, other sickening aspects of the situation—such as the utter inadequacy of the Administration in dealing with the vital problem of inflation; the selfish and unpatriotic attitude of the labor bosses in refusing to cooperate in the defense effort unless granted concessions that put them in a favored class; the failure of both President and Congress to take any effective step toward plugging what Mr. William Jeffers describes as the "thousands of rat holes" down which the taxpayers' money is wastefully pouring; the feebleness with which the great questions of raising revenue for defense purposes are being tackled; the distressing evidence of a breakdown in governmental moral and ethical standards as shown by the sordid RFC exposures of the Fulbright committee.

Without minimizing any of these, the complete bustup of the bipartisan foreign policy is probably the most damaging thing nationally that has happened in the last eight months. Just as unity would have enhanced the prestige and increased the power of this country, the lack of unity has exactly the reverse effect abroad where we are looked to for leadership by the free nations of Europe. But there are other reasons the lack of a bipartisan foreign policy has been harmful. When politics and personal animosities wrought its destruction the deterioration did not stop there. Politics and personal animosities were promoted all down the line. The difficulties of intelligent action on economy, on taxes, on defense legislation and on a lot of other things were increased.

The whole fabric of the Government which should have been strengthened to meet the great emergency has been torn and weakened. Responsibility for this state of affairs is divided. True enough, the Republicans in Congress have permitted bitterness and bad feeling to warp their policies and prevent them from taking high ground. Politics has flavored both their words and their deeds. They exhibit a pitiable inability to do much except attack and berate. From time to time they bellow about the necessity of curtailing all non-defense expenditures, but when the test votes occur only a small fraction support the one consistent fighter for economy—Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia. Two weeks ago on just such a vote a majority of the Republicans were found lined up with the very Administration forces they had been denouncing. In brief, though a national crisis exists, it cannot be claimed that the Republican course in the three months since Congress convened has been constructive in the slightest degree—quite the reverse.

On the other hand, the Truman Administration has done much to make a bipartisan foreign policy impossible—or for that matter bipartisanism in any other direction. The national danger clearly makes it incumbent upon the Administration to take the initiative in promoting unity in the national interests. Certainly no one will contend that the Truman Administration has even attempted to do this. Instead, it seems deliberately to have acted in a number of instances to arouse political suspicion and ill will. One notable example last fall was the sending of Mr. Averil Harriman, the President's special adviser and representative in foreign affairs, to the American Federation of Labor convention to attack Senator Taft, who was fighting for his life in Ohio. Naturally, resentment of this was intense and many of Mr. Truman's friends conceded it was a stupid mistake.

Nor has the Administration really done anything calculated to allay bitterness in the Republican ranks. Certainly the appointment of ex-Senators Dulles and Cooper cannot be so construed. They merely emphasized the fact that the Republican leaders in Congress are not consulted and that personal relations with them are not good. Actually, the Administration has no effective liaison man with Congress. Mr. Acheson, of course, irritates instead of conciliates, and there literally is no one trying to improve a relationship concededly and unnecessarily bad.

Also, there is Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, now chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. His contribution may seem small but actually it is not. His bad manners and bad temper have played their part in inflaming partisanship and preventing co-operation in the Senate. His coarse and insulting rudeness to ex-President Herbert Hoover when the latter appeared before his committee was just one example of his ability to engender bad feelings. None of these things constitute adequate excuse for the Republican failure to measure up to the crisis. But add them all up and the failure is easier to understand. With 1952 ahead, it is somewhat appalling to realize that probably nothing short of the general war which threatens us will insure the national unity so urgently needed.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

It's rather late for it, but since I have to write this column quite a bit ahead of time, I didn't have a chance to do my duty until now.

As a newspaperman, it is my duty to extend my deepest sympathy to Barbara Hutton, customarily referred to as "dime store heiress," who was reported "sad and looking ill" when she left for New York because that Mexican judge refused her a quickie divorce.

I would also extend my sympathies to her latest spouse, Prince Igor Troubetzkoy, who in all probability "also looks 'sad and ill,'" but I have not seen any reports about him.

But I am sure that I would be very sad and not only look but be ill, if I thought I could get three million dollars and then be thwarted in my attempt.

I also want to extend my heartfelt congratulations and good wishes to Elliott Roosevelt and his charming bride on the occasion of the fourth wedding of each.

May they have all the happiness they deserve and may their latest excursion into the sea of matrimony outlast their honeymoon.

Now that the social amenities have been taken care of, let me start on what I was going to talk about today.

Subject: There are lots of things about people that neither you nor I will ever understand.

Here is a typical case: In a nearby town there was a nasty automobile accident a couple of weeks ago.

A drunken driver ran over a child and hurt it so badly that the youngster will probably die.

An ugly-minded crowd assembled at the scene of the accident. They made all kinds of threats, and it looked for a while as if they were ready to lynch the driver.

One of the loudest castigators was a character who couldn't condemn law violators vehemently enough.

Three days later I saw that same character reel out of a tavern, get into his car and zig-zag crazily down the road.

If any children had been in his way, he would most certainly have hit them.

Here is another case that puzzles me.

We know a woman who has one of the sharpest tongues ever put into a human mouth.

She sneaks everybody, she gossips, she finds fault with all her friends and hates to have anything good said about anybody.

That same woman is so sensitive about herself that she will cry and carry on the moment the most innocent remark is made to or about her.

By that every sensitivity she has lost friend after friend.

At the hearings of the Senate Crime Committee I noticed that

Part Of College Students May Be Deferred

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—President Truman acted Saturday to liberalize the Selective Service regulations in order to make possible deferment of a portion of the nation's college students.

The president signed an executive order authorizing the deferments by the Selective Service of such students under certain conditions.

The order applies to young men now in college who intend to continue their college studies, and to graduate students. It does not apply to high school students or those who would enter college for the first time next fall.

In Higher Standings
The order would affect only those students with the higher standing in their studies, or those able to pass a special examination which will be conducted by the Selective Service.

Selective Service officials said that the order, at present, will be applicable to the "upper half" of students in college classes, and to those able to pass a rigid special examination.

It was emphasized that the president's order is temporary, and may be revised at any time if required by the nation's manpower needs in the present emergency.

The White House said that Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, will determine the number of men to be given draft deferments and the scholastic rating which will apply. Information concerning the examinations for deferments will be available around April 12.

Chairman Of P.U.C. May Be Named By Governor Fine Today

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—Gov. John S. Fine today may appoint a chairman of the Public Utility Commission to prevent a tie-vote on the five member agency.

The vacancy stems from the completion of a 10-year term by John S. Siggins, Jr., one-time Warren County Republican leader who now resides in Camp Hill. Siggins served for almost three years as a commissioner before beginning a 10-year term as chairman.

It is understood that an informal justice department opinion prohibits Fine from naming one of the four commissioners acting chairman.

PROTEST WALKOUT PLANNED
EAST PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Four hundred CIO-IUE stewards today will vote to institute or nullify a work stoppage recommendation which would close the giant East Pittsburgh works of Westinghouse Electric Corporation and keep 12,000 employees from working.

The executive board of Local 601 recommended the protest walkout during a meeting yesterday.

IUE officials said the walkout would be a demonstration of protest against a three-day corporation suspension of union steward Frank Pugliano.

Police Are Seeking Three Young Girls 'Out To See World'

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—Police in eastern and midwestern states searched today for three young girls who left home in the family car "to see the world" because they think "there will be a war and we will all be dead" before they can finish school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley told police in nearby Mt. Lebanon that their daughters, Louise, 14, and Josephine, 12, and a friend, Olive Christman, 15, could not drive.

Police were called in late Saturday night after the Kelleys found a note left by the runaways.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

"If there is another war," says General Bob Eichelberger, "I recommend that the military, the correspondents, and everyone else concerned, drop the phrase 'mopping up' from their vocabularies. It is not a good enough phrase to die for."

Eichelberger's book, "Our Jungle Road to Tokyo," written in collaboration with Milton Mackaye, is not only a thrill-packed story, but particularly timely today. Here is one of the general's grimmer observations: "I think, insofar as army officers are concerned, that the concept of graceful losing can be overdone; in combat warfare there may be no game next week."

A young secretary who never had attended a symphony concert in her life was given a complimentary ticket for the Philadelphia orchestra by a salesman seeking a friend at court. She was so anxious to look her best that the concert had gotten under way by the time she arrived. "What are they playing?" "Beethoven's Eighth Symphony," was the reply. "Oh, dear," sighed the secretary, "am I as late as that?"

People ARE funny—aren't they? I wonder what makes them that way?

Britain's First A-Bomb Nears Completion

LONDON, April 2.—(INS)—Britain's first atomic bomb was reported today to be nearing the completion stage and will be tested on the rocket range at Woomera, Australia.

The London Daily Graphic in an undated dispatch quoted Sir Harry Garner, the British ministry of supply's chief scientist, as announcing in Canberra that the bomb will be set off in that country.

British sources revealed for the first time last month that a British A-bomb is under construction and would be exploded within a year. It is claimed to have a better fusing arrangement than the American bomb.

Somehow or other people speak of epidemics as outbreaks of infectious disease like flu or diphtheria or smallpox.

There may be epidemics of diseases which are not infectious, such as heart disease, hardening of the arteries or deafness.

Butch's chances of living seventy years are pretty good. We are going to have an epidemic of old people. Better get into the hearing aid business.

DRIVER IS HELD
Lester N. James, Pennsylvania avenue, was arrested by Police-men Russos and Richards at Mill and Washington streets at three a. m. Sunday on a charge of driving an auto while intoxicated. The charge was made before Alderman J. C. Kennedy.

Policeman John James saw Lester James' car in Long avenue, believed the operator to be intoxicated, telephoned police headquarters and the car was sent to Russo and Richards, who were in a cruiser car. They arrested James when the car was at Mill and Washington streets.

Henry Kulinski, Pollock avenue, was charged with disorderly conduct, it having been alleged he threw a bottle of intoxicants from James' car, in which he was an occupant.

Drive To Ban Sale Of B-B Guns In State Is Nearing Climax

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—A widespread drive to ban sale or use of B-B guns in Pennsylvania is nearing a climax.

The fate of the dangerous "toy" weapons will depend on reaction to six bills before the state house of representatives.

Each would prohibit sale or use of air rifles and similar weapons and would establish severe penalties for violation.

The measures reflect a wave of protest by medical and humane societies and law enforcement agencies.

Philadelphia and Scranton are among municipalities which already have outlawed B-B guns via local ordinances.

Community leaders were aroused at numerous cases where innocent victims lost their eyesight because of carelessly-fired pellets.

"We're as much concerned with preventing blindness as with helping the sightless," explained M. David Treisman, a federation official, "and these guns are a threat to eyesight if they are permitted to be fired haphazardly."

Man Is Injured; Struck By Auto

Clyde Stewart, 57, of R. D. 9, was struck by an auto operated by Nicholas V. Borkes, 1204 South Jefferson street, at 1:30 a. m. Sunday on the West Pittsburgh road, Taylor township. He was walking south when struck by the car, which was also traveling south, according to state police.

He was removed in an ambulance to the New Castle hospital, where it was found he had received a fracture of his left leg and also suffered from shock.

REMEMBERS BUCHANAN
LANCASTER, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Miss Louise Barrinber's 96th birthday prompted her to remember that President James Buchanan was a man with an eye for beauty.

She said during her birthday celebration yesterday in the home of friends at East Petersburg that when she asked Buchanan whether she could pick violets growing at his home at Wheatland he replied: "Any girl as pretty as you may pick as many violets as you want."

STEAL FENDER GUARDS
New fender guards were reported by Dale Woodruff, Clairton, to have been stolen from his car which was in a Homestead street lot, according to a report at police headquarters.

Casualties In A-Bomb Blast Would Be Huge

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, April 2 — A medical expert estimated today that an atom bomb burst over a populous area would kill some 40,000 persons within a few hours and injure of main another 80,000.

The expert, Dr. Perrin H. Long, now of Johns Hopkins university and former medical adviser for the office of civilian defense planning, said that of the 80,000 injured another 20,000 would die within six weeks.

In an article in the current issue of the journal of the American Medical Association Dr. Long asserted that civil defense preparations are inadequate to deal with the threat posed by modern weapons.

The guided missile, the atom bomb and the long-range planes, he pointed out, have outdated World War II civil defense plans based on estimates of a few hundred casualties in the event of an attack on a large city.

Principal problem, Dr. Long said, would be to stockpile and get to the scene enough medical supplies and equipment.

He added: "The problem of what should be done to provide adequate medical supplies for one, two or three major incidents is not an easy one and has not yet been answered."

Dr. Long said his estimate of the number of casualties if a big city were A-bombed was based on experience gleaned from the Hiroshima and Nagasaki blasts and from the experimental blasts at Bikini.

The first European-type pipes made for smoking in this country were made by William Demuth in 1861.

Ship Drugs To Korea For T.B. Tests For Million Civilians

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—(INS)—A large shipment of drugs for testing a million Korean civilians for tuberculosis was dispatched to Pusan in response to an urgent appeal from a young Philadelphia doctor.

The physician, First Lt. Galio Barbero, attached to the 12th medical dispensary in Pusan, wrote to a Philadelphia colleague requesting drugs for use in an orphanage in which he is treating refugee children. "We have such TB, the like of which I am sure you will never see," he wrote to Dr. Edward M. Sewell, pediatric resident at Children's hospital in Philadelphia. Dr. Barbero added: "At present I have no drugs to use. I would appreciate anything you might do for me with respect to getting tuberculosis. We are in desperate straits for it."

He also mentioned the need for streptomycin, promazine and paracetamol. Dr. Barbero requested that the firm donate the shipment of tuberculin testing material which left Philadelphia's international airport today.

Army officials commended what they termed Dr. Barbero's "beyond-the-call-of-duty" efforts, but explained they were powerless to supply drugs for civilian use in Korea. The United Nations has responsibility in such matters, it was explained.

Garden Notes

The sowing of sweet peas should be done as soon as the frost is out of the ground. Success with these plants depends largely upon their getting an early start and making a deep root system while the weather is still cool.

Hardy perennials, such as phlox, day lilies, physostegia and valerians can be lifted, divided and replanted as soon as the ground is in condition to work.

Cultivation may begin in the herbaceous borders and rose garden as soon as they are uncovered so as to aerate the soil and destroy overwintering insects.

Among other things, dwarf espalier fruit trees should be ordered at this time. Plums, apples, cherries, pears, peaches, apricots and nectarines are all to be had of bearing age.

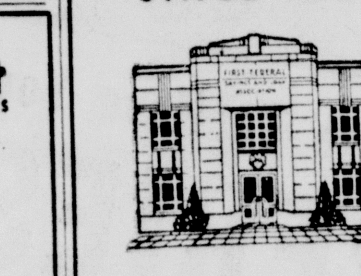

The winter mulch on the strawberry bed should be removed now, so that the ground will have a chance to warm up and the plants to start normally early growth.

This is the time of year to repair and paint trellises because vines recover quickly as soon as new growth starts, even if it is necessary to cut them back severely.

Calls For Expanded Drive To Uncover Tax Evasions

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Treasury Secretary Snyder promised the senate crime committee full cooperation in exposing organized crime and called for an expanded drive to uncover tax evasion by gamblers.

The treasury secretary appealed to local officials throughout the nation to turn over all available information on gambling operations to the internal revenue bureau to help catch tax evaders.

Snyder expressed gratification for the 30-day extension of the Kefauver group's life to May 1 and said it would provide opportunities for further consultation between his department and the committee.

He assured Kefauver in a statement that the treasury "earnestly desires to continue to work closely with the committee toward fullest exposure of organized crime's operations."

Information Volunteered
The cabinet member disclosed that he recently received a letter from the mayor of an "important" but unnamed city giving detailed information, including names, about gambling in his area. Snyder added:

"I hope that other local officials will follow the mayor's example. This sort of cooperation from public officials of states, counties and municipalities will be of very great value. In seeing that tax-dodging gamblers and racketeers meet the full force of federal penalties."

O'Connor, who is expected to succeed Kefauver as crime chairman if the Tennessee steps out, called for an extension of the committee's life to investigate the narcotics racket. He said:

"As a direct breeding ground for crime and as an element of physical and moral destruction for its addicts, the narcotics trade is possibly the most vicious single challenge in the whole field of racketeering."

O'Connor declared that "organized groups of criminals are active on both the national and international levels" in smuggling and selling narcotics. He described as "most alarming" the report that the Chinese have dumped 500 tons of opium on the world market.

Anthracite Industry Got Early Pa. Start

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania's anthracite industry has come a long way since 1762, when a party of hunters stumbled onto the richest hard coal deposits in the world. Since that time, seven billion tons have been mined.

The little group, however, didn't have an idea as to the ultimate worth of the curious "black diamonds."

A century and a half later the Keystone state is producing 45 million tons of anthracite annually—and in peak years the industry has dug out more than twice as much.

Back in 1762 it was thought "this bed of coal may some time or other be a thing of great value."

It was a long time before the new fuel received public acceptance.

As late as 1820 only about 2,500 tons were mined. Coal dealers were looked upon as swindlers.

From such humble beginnings the world's greatest anthracite industry has sprung.

The hard coal belt covers an area of approximately 500 square miles scattered over nine counties, but most of the production comes from the rolling hills in a five-county area around Scranton.

Food Prices To Be Discussed At Meeting Tonight

Discussion of the high price of food products will be discussed at a meeting planned for this evening in the court house, under the auspices of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association.

The discussion will be led by George E. Brandow of Penn State college, who will present some guides for judging as to whether prices of food products are out of line and who is to blame.

This meeting is open to all interested, but is of particular interest to the farmer because the answer consumers give to the question affects all who produce food.

Isolationism Is Denounced By President Auriol

French Leader Is Heard In Congress During Morning

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—French President Auriol denounced isolationism and neutrality as moral absurdities and historical nonsense today before a Congress debating the extent of U. S. participation in the fight against Communism.

M. Auriol's outspoken address was his last official gesture before leaving Washington, where he has been a guest for the past six days.

Before Troops Vote
The French president spoke last night before the Senate was to vote on the vital "troops for Europe" issue.

"The congressional appearance marked a visit during which M. Auriol has sought to reassure Americans that France has both the strength and the determination to fight for liberty."

M. Auriol, a stocky, greying and exceedingly amiable man, occupied the speaker's dais as he spoke in French. Senate and House members each had English translations to follow his words.

After paying tribute to U. S. aid to democracy in two world wars, M. Auriol said:

"These sacred achievements of man, which are not only the most precious values in our civilization but also the conditions for all future improvement, for all individual and social progress are today threatened."

Only six years after our two peoples were equal in history, for the attainment and organization of a just and tranquil peace."

Final Population Figures For State Are Announced

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—Final population figures for Allegheny county were set at 1,515,237 yesterday by the U. S. Census Bureau.

This is an increase of 103,698 in the 10 years since 1940.

The bureau explained these final figures include the persons who were away from home when the nose-counters came around.

These persons were counted, but in another part of the country. Now they have been added to the early count here.

The state, as a whole, rose by 597,832 from 1940 to a final total of 10,498,012, edged up by California with 10,586,223.

California, which had a population of 6,907,387 in 1940, is now second to New York, and Pennsylvania is third.

Final Population figures for other counties in this area show:

Beaver 175,192 156,754
Butler 97,320 87,590
Cambria 209,541 213,459
Erie 219,388 200,999

Lawrence 209,628 210,852
Washington 313,179 303,411

Of these, Cambria, Fayette and Washington counties showed decreases in population since 1940.

U.C.T. Council Enjoys Dinner

Attorney Joseph Solomon Is Speaker

New Castle Council, United Commercial Travelers, and their ladies enjoyed the annual dinner, Saturday evening, in The Cathedral, which was followed by initiation of new members, and an entertainment for the ladies.

Leland Dennison, senior counselor, presided, and introduced Jesse Anderson as master of ceremonies. The officers of the lodge were introduced, along with a number of distinguished guests.

Solomon Speaks
Attorney Joseph Solomon was the speaker of the evening, and in line with the UCT's program of care for the widows and children of their deceased members, gave an interesting talk, in which he stated that fraternal organizations such as the United Commercial Travelers were the backbone of good citizenship.

He stated that New Castle was a good community in which to live, but pointed out that more civic effort could be expended in providing wholesome recreation for the children of the community, not only those who are considered the underprivileged, but others as well, citing the fine community spirit shown in Ellwood City, New Wilmington, Mercer, Grove City, and other nearby places, which have outstanding parks and swimming pools.

Outside Visitors

Neid, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the grand executive committee; Sam Frederick, of Beaver Valley council; and Joseph Bentley, past counselor, of Sharon, and

G. C. Van Orsdal, grand councillor, of Warren, O.

Two veteran members of New Castle council, Wyatt R. Campbell and William H. Blews, Sr., who hold high places in the Pennsylvania grand council, were prevented from attending because of illness, and their absence was noted with regret.

Service Division Members And Wives Guests At Program

Members of the Lawrence County Service Division group of the Coordinate Bodies of the Valley of New Castle Consistory had a program of entertainment in the Cathedral Friday evening.

There was a brief business session presided over by Chairman Fred G. Moser, following which the guests heard Col. H. C. Anderson, special representative of the Union Pacific Railroad, describe the wonders of the Jackson Hole Country and Yellowstone National Park.

He told many interesting facts about this area, and gave a historic background of the country, which proved most entertaining.

A color film was also shown on Washington, D. C., and its splendors, which was presented through the courtesy of Harry Boyd, of the B. and O. railroad passenger department.

The evening's program was concluded with an appetizing lunch.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 2 — With Hollywood now turning out super-scientific thrillers the movie stars are paying closer attention to Buck Rogers, Flash Gordon and Mighty Mouse lest they get caught with their celestial talents down while the cosmic casting is going on.

For Hollywood today is a giant mystic laboratory jammed with interplanetary tourists, atom-smashing paraphernalia, monsters from out of this world, rocket ships, metaphysics, disintegrating rays, robots and more electronic hi jinks than a geiger counter has ticks.

Pictures like "The Day the Earth Stood Still," "The Thing From Another World," "When Worlds Collide," "Rocketship XM," "Destination Moon" and "The Man From Planet X" have done it. Even the British are in on the act with "Seven Days Till Noon," dealing with a mad scientist's threat to atom bomb London.

The most fantastic, suspenseful, exciting and significant of these cloud 8 dramas is 20th Century-Fox's "The Day the Earth Stood Still," which producer Julian Blaustein is bringing to the screen.

The picture deals with the reception accorded an ambassador from another planet 5000 years ahead of our civilization who lands his space ship on a Washington, D. C., lawn to warn earth peoples of their headlong march to destruction.

8-Foot Robot

Accompanying the ambassador, flesh-and-blood man with superior and absolute knowledge, is an 8-foot robot with light-ray eyes who has the ability to think, restore life to the dead, disintegrate any element known to man and to neutralize electricity all over the world. From this latter unearthly talent comes the title of the film.

Nations of the earth, ironically unable to get together in the face of threats from an unbeatable power, are shown what they are up against when the robot causes every electrically-aided vehicle and machine to stand still.

The exciting movie also contains a romance between an earth woman and a space man. Script writer Edmund H. North thinks that the picture will not prove to be as fantastic as it sounds. "Who can say these things cannot be some day," says North.

THIS AND THAT

Short takes: Paramount has bought rights to the GIs' favorite cartoon, "Sad Sack." Alan Young will star. Mala Powers, whose first name means "Bad" in Spanish, "good" in Burmese and "odd" in Dutch, will go along with the Latin meaning. Her studio took up the second option of her contract, with a whopping raise.

Esther Williams wears her 1000th bathing suit in "Texas Carnival."

Tax On Meat Is Proposed

Touches Off Storm Of Indignation In U.S. Senate Today

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—A proposal for a tax on meat, advanced by the staff of the Senate House economic committee, touched off a storm of indignation today in the Senate.

Senate Republican floor leader Wherry, Neb., branded the suggestion "ridiculous" and took sharp issue with another staff statement that meat is a "luxury" food.

Sen. Hickenlooper, R. Iowa, said that tax-meat idea is "utterly fantastic." He said meat is an "essential" food to the American public rather than a luxury.

On Advertising Too?
The staff suggestion for a tax on meat—and one on advertising—was contained in a supplement to a report by the Senate House economic committee to President Truman's economic message to Congress.

Of meat, the staff said: "In the case of food, the groups getting $3,000 or more account for 64 per cent of the total sales volume of food. This means that a tax on certain luxury items might not be as certain as the sheer standpoint of production, meat is in reality a luxury food."

Senate Republican policy leader Taft, Ohio, said that in signing the committee report "I want to make it clear I do not approve many of the conclusions reached by the committee staff."

Taft added that "I do not desire at this time to state specifically my difference with the staff report" because as a member of the finance committee, he will have to pass later on some of the tax issues raised.

Most Fantastic
Hickenlooper declared the staff statements "the most fantastic utterance I have heard... If they want to the American public to eat, they need some realistic approach to the food problem."

Wherry said that in advocating a tax on advertising, the staff is apt to get its fingers burned on the freedom of the press issue.

The report of the committee itself urged President Truman to limit military spending—including foreign aid and atomic projects—to 20 per cent of the national income on the basis of an expected 254 billion dollar income this year this would be 50.8 billions for the military.

County Red Cross In Need
Of $7,727 For 1951 Goal

Goal $52,000

Needed $ 7,727

Red Cross workers in New Castle and Lawrence county began a concentrated campaign today to secure the balance of $7,727 needed to put the 1951 campaign over the $52,000 mark. The total raised up to date, which included the "Porch Light" campaign, is now $44,273, or 85% of the goal.

Chairman L. J. Lewis has extended the drive, and stated: "We are entering the final phase with a determination to meet our goal. Our 500 volunteers are going over their assignments and are being asked to go out and finish the job so that every home, business and industry will have had an opportunity to give."

"Many of our citizens," Lewis said, "are bringing in or mailing to the chapter house at 39 North Beaver street, New Castle, additional contributions. Also many who might have missed unintentionally or may not have been home are co-operating by sending in their contributions. It would greatly facilitate our efforts if other citizens who have not yet contributed would sit down and write that check for Red Cross now."

SOCIETY & Clubs

FIRST LADY OF YEAR TO BE CHOSEN SOON

Who will be chosen "First Lady of the Year" for 1951? This question will be decided by a board of secret nominators and members of the Pennsylvania Epsilon Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, and announcement of the selection will be made public following the sorority's meeting Wednesday evening, April 4, in the Green room of the Y.W.C.A.

Selection of the First Lady of the Year in any field of community activity and is made solely on the merit of individual achievement. In honor of the woman who is chosen, a certificate of recognition will be awarded publicly at a reception-tea to be held in April in the Cathedral.

Mrs. Donald F. Copson, president of Beta Sigma Phi, local chapter, announces that seven secret nominators, local business and professional men who themselves are outstanding civic workers, are now making their selections. Each will name a candidate who he feels is deserving of recognition of the First Lady of the Year through her outstanding service to the community. The nominators and members of the sorority will then vote by secret ballot for one woman who will serve as First Lady.

Women have become so active and important in every type of community activity that the international organization of Beta Sigma Phi felt that some type of recognition should be given them in every city where there is a chapter of the sorority.

The international organization will celebrate the 20th anniversary of its founding on April 30, 1951, and chapters in United States, territories of Hawaii and Alaska, Canada, England, Scotland, Japan, Guam and China will observe anniversary ceremonies exemplifying their purpose—to make an art of living, to enrich the lives of the members through cultural, social and charitable activity.

Members of the sorority are not eligible to be chosen as First Lady. Beta Epsilon Gamma chapter here in New Castle was founded in June of 1947 and has since that time contributed to various community charitable activities and participated in numerous projects toward civic betterment.

Committee chairman for the First Lady of the Year celebration are: General and property, Mrs. Donald Copson; food and kitchen, Mrs. James Uber; program, Mrs. Howard Frew; Mrs. Paul Reed, co-chairmen; publicity, Mrs. Raymond Fredericks; ushers, Mrs. Carl Ocheneider; invitations, Mrs. Robert Felen; reception, Mrs. E. Birth Rates In World Are High

Births Continue At High Rate Since War

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 2.—Birth rates throughout the world rose sharply shortly after the close of World War II and have continued at high levels during the postwar years, Metropolitan Life Insurance company statisticians report. In many countries the postwar birth rates have been the highest since the baby boom that followed World War I.

Particularly striking gains were recorded in the United States, where the 1947 peak was one and a half times the average of 1937-1939. Almost as marked was the upswing in such widely separated countries as New Zealand, France and Canada.

Most of the countries had higher birth rates during the war than in the years just before the war started. In the United States, for example, the rates averaged 15 per cent higher in 1940-1944 than in 1937-1939, and in Austria, Sweden, Switzerland and New Zealand the rise from the prewar to the war years was even more pronounced.

"These facts suggest that the postwar rise in births in many of the countries was due not so much to deferment of births during the war as to the improvement of economic conditions from those existing during the depression decade of the 1930's," the statisticians observe.

Declines Slight
Although the world trend has been somewhat downward since 1947, when most countries reached their postwar birth rate peak, the declines generally have been slight. In the United States the 1949 rate was only 7 per cent lower than that for 1947, and the decreases have been smaller in other countries, including Canada, the Union of South Africa and Australia.

Exceptions to this are England and Wales, and the Netherlands, where the rates had declined markedly by 1949 from their postwar peaks.

France, for many years prior to the war on the brink of a decline, experienced an upsurge of births during the postwar years which by 1947 had carried its birth rate to a point 43 per cent higher than the prewar level. By 1949 the French birth rate had dropped only slightly from its postwar peak.

Followed General Pattern
Japan followed the general pattern set by most of the western countries. Japan's 1947 birth rate was 22 per cent above the prewar figure, and the decline from 1947 through 1949 was only 3 per cent, although the first nine months of 1950 showed a sharp fall which may bring the 1950 rate close to the 1937-1939 level.

Western Germany and Italy have departed from the general pattern. Western Germany's birth rate rose somewhat during the postwar years, but remained well below the 1938 figure, and the Italian rate after rising during 1945 and 1946, declined by 1949 to 15 per cent below that for the prewar period.

Difficulty is seen by the statisticians in predicting how long the high fertility rate of the postwar world will continue.

"It is surprising that it has lasted through 1949 and well into 1950 in many countries, especially in view of the relatively high birth rates which prevailed during the war," the statisticians comment. "But we probably will see fairly substantial reductions in the near future, although it is still too early to say when they will come, and how great they will be."

COLLEGE DRAFT

DALLAS, Tex.—(INS)—The war is taking girls out of college! They're leaving to marry the drafted college boys. The spring enrollment at Southern Methodist university shows a drop of 800 from the 5,000 students enrolled last fall. The university's registrar, Leonard Nystrom, says the loss is due to the drafted boys—and also to the girls who withdrew to marry their boy friends when they left for the service.

Helping Them Understand

"Daddy gets mad when he's hungry, doesn't he?" mused five-year-old Tony. At first, Tony's mother was startled by the comment. And then she stopped to think how often she had talked with Tony about people and the way they acted.

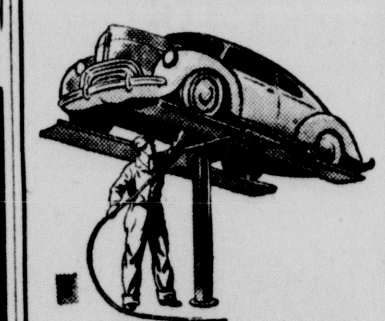

This ability of children to understand the causes of behavior is far more common than we usually think. If we are honest and frank with them, they will learn a great deal about how people "tick".

Susan, for instance, was upset. "That old man in the store," she complained "is always so grouchy." Her mother agreed but went on to say, "I wonder whether he's worried about something or whether his feet hurt? Sometimes that makes people cross."

Not long after Susan came into the house smiling. "You know, mother," she said, "I tried to be especially nice to Mr. Brown in the store today and he smiled at me."

It's natural for children—and perhaps for too many grownups—to react to others' behavior without trying to understand what may cause that behavior. With a little understanding help, though, our youngsters can be turned from labeling people and things as merely "good" or "bad" and show an amazing amount of real understanding.

BRIDEGROOM'S FAMILY GIVING WEDDING

"An American boy is marrying a girl from a foreign country. The wedding, which none of the bride's family will be able to attend because they live in a distant land, will take place here and will be a church wedding. Should the bridegroom's parents issue the invitations and how should they be worded? Just how far is the bridegroom's family permitted to go in giving the wedding in view of this girl's having no family over here?"

Answer: The bride's family must always issue invitations and announcements of her wedding regardless of the distance separating them from their daughter. If she has no parents living, an older sister or brother, aunt or uncle, or an old friend of the family may perform this gesture. I have never heard of a bride who didn't have some connection of her own—a relative or close friend—who would gladly issue invitations and announcements for her.

The girl's invitations and announcements should be written in the usual form, just as if her parents were here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughter etc., etc.

If the bride's circumstances do not permit her to afford a "wedding" in view of her parents' absence, her future mother-in-law may pay the expenses—really give her a wedding. She may, because of her circumstances, give her homeless daughter-in-law a reception in her home or in a hotel. In fact, she may go the limit in all things, except invitations and announcements.

Needless to say, were the bride's parents living here, she would be required by rules of etiquette to go to her own home for her marriage and allow the groom's family to assume no responsibility, financial or otherwise.

Report That 707 G.I. Training Schools In State Are Eligible

HARRISBURG, April 2—(INS)—The State Public Instruction Department reported Saturday that 707 G.I. training schools eligible to continue their courses.

Applications of 138 for recertification are under study, according to superintendent Francis B. Haas.

He said the Veterans Administration has extended for two weeks the April 1 deadline for recertifying schools.

Sixty-two G.I. schools have not applied for recertification, he added.

Failure to meet the deadline, Haas explained, was caused by the need for investigators to visit most schools two or three times to gather data for reports.

Believe Man 'Inside Baseball' Will Replace Chandler As Czar

Big League Owners In No Hurry To Name Successor

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Sports Writer)

TAMPA, Fla., April 2.—Major league baseball club owners appear to be as far from agreed today on whom they will select to succeed Happy Chandler as a month ago, but the latest trend seems to favor a man from inside the game for commissioner.

Fred Saigh, who bank-rolls the St. Louis Cardinals and has a leading role in getting Chandler fired, asked:

"Why shouldn't we have strictly a baseball man for a change?"

Billy Evans, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, agreed that a person familiar with the ins and outs of baseball probably would be better equipped for the $65,000 a year job at the outset than anybody from outside the diamond circle.

Billy Evans Speaks

Walter Briggs, owner of the Tigers, was one of Chandler's top supporters when the former Kentucky senator failed for a second and final time to receive a confidence vote of club owners. The decision reached at Miami Beach on March 12 meant that a new commissioner must be named on or before April 30, 1952, when Happy's contract expires.

Evans, apparently reflecting the opinion of Briggs and other pro-Chandler owners made this observation:

"We, of course, thought Happy was doing a good job, even though one of his decisions cost the Tigers thousands of dollars."

"Happy had learned a lot since he took the job, and I think he is a better commissioner now than anyone we could get who must start from scratch to learn the things Happy already knows."

Lausche Has Support

Ohio Gov. Frank Lausche appears to have an inside chance to win the post. Two major league clubs happen to be in Ohio, and it was assumed that Lausche would also win the support of the Pittsburgh owners along with the Cincinnati and Cleveland votes.

That theory may pan out eventually, but a recent unofficial survey of the owners and front office spokesmen indicates that an experienced baseball man generally would be welcomed.

The names of Will Harridge and Ford Frick, respectively presidents of the American and National leagues, are listed with other men.

such as George Trautman, from "inside the game".

Diamond Dust

(By International News Service)

Major league baseball clubs begin their homeward journey this week, and the Boston Red Sox are anxious to get home to try out their new Fenway Park lineup.

The perennial American league pennant favorites tried out their "home park" lineup in the grapefruit circuit yesterday and it paid off against the Detroit Tigers.

Steve O'Neil put Junior Stephens on third and Lou Boudreau at short and the Sox maulled the Bengals, 8 to 1.

Walt Drope and rookie Fred Hatfield connected for homers in a 14-hit attack that snowed under Detroit rookie Bill Hoelt.

Also prominent at the plate were Bobby Doerr and Billy Goodman. Each made three hits.

Rae Scarborough and Ken Raf-fensberger, aided by a homer by Ted Kluszewski, blanked the Philadelphia Phillies, 2 to 0, for the Cincinnati Reds.

Blackwell's performance, Kluszewski's two-run smack came in the ninth inning off Russ Meyer.

The Brooklyn Dodgers engaged in their fourth overtime game in five days and managed to outlast the Boston Braves, 4 to 3, in 11 innings.

The world champion New York Yankees downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 3; the Chicago Cubs scored an 8 to 5 victory over Cleveland; the New York Giants out-slugged the St. Louis Cardinals, 12 to 8; the White Sox tripped the Browns, 8 to 7; Baltimore stopped the Philadelphia A's 7 to 2; and Louisville belted the Washington Senators, 10 to 3.

Most of the Pittsburgh Pirates' spring training news has featured Ralph Kiner's shift from left field to first base.

Syracuse-Knicks Series Tied Up

(By International News Service)

The Rochester Royals are proving to be the surprise of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

They defeated the mighty Minneapolis Lakers, 83 to 70 at Rochester last night to take a 2 to 1 in the Western Division playoffs. As usual, George Mikan of the Lakers was high scorer, with 23 points.

Syracuse Wins

The home court advantage also held good in the Eastern Division playoff at Syracuse, where the Syracuse stars downed the New York Knickerbockers 90 to 83 and tied up the series at two victories apiece.

The Knicks have won on the Syracuse court only once in two years.

A total of 77 fouls testified to the continuance of the Hatfield-McCoy feud between the two bitter rivals.

Dolph Schayes of the Nationals was high scorer with 34 points.

The two teams will clash for the Eastern title in New York on Friday.

Allentown Reigns As State Champions; Farrell Folks Give Losers Celebration

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 2 — (INS)—Allentown high school's fast-moving basketball team toured the banquet circuit today to explain how they won the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association court crown.

Admiring fans know that the Canaries of Coach Milo Seward defeated Farrell high, the western titlist, in PIAA finals at the Palestra Saturday night by a record-breaking 66-55 score.

But invitations poured in from groups who want to hear the boys tell about it in person. The team was honored at the annual Jewish community center banquet last night and another testimonial spread is slated April 11.

Awards Distributed

Before that the squad was feted at the Lehigh Valley club, where state championship pins were distributed. It was the Canaries' fifth PIAA crown in the tournament's 32-year history and gave Seward the championship in his first year as coach.

It also helped to make up for the years 1946 and 1947 when Allentown won championships but had to forfeit them because of ineligible players.

The Canaries were sparked to their championship in the final by the one-two punch of Bill Snyder and Ed Cahn; who hit for 20 and 16 points respectively.

McCoy Scores

Julius McCoy, of Farrell, topped his team with 18 points but he could not keep pace with Snyder in snaring those vital rebounds from the backboard. The Canaries led 24-29 at halftime.

Allentown's 66 points was the highest score ever achieved in a title game; Farrell's 55 points were the highest compiled by a losing team and the total of 121 points was also the most ever tallied by two teams in a state final. Some 8500 fans watched the game.

Bob Baker Meets Bryant Tonight

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—Hard-hitting Bob Baker, winner of 18 straight heavyweight matches, tests his brittle hands against Levi Bryant, a Texan, in a ten-round bout at the Gardens in Pittsburgh tonight.

Baker will weigh about eight pounds over his best fighting weight. He expects to scale 210 and claims the three-month layoff caused by hand injuries made the weight-shedding pretty rough during his training period.

GARFIELD DAVIS has returned to the city following a month's stay at Ft. Meyer, Fla., during which he reports having had a grand time catching fish of various species in the Colossahachie river. He said he had particular pleasure in catching snooks, one of which weighed slightly more than 13 pounds, and had a mouth so large one could put both his fists inside it. He said the method used to take snook is to hold a tight line, then fetch them out of the water only sufficiently high to have their mouth show when they are "drowned" by air. He caught flying catfish, speckled trout and blow-fish.

Chicago's contribution to bowling's mighty mites, Paul Marian, caught lightning can strike twice in the same place. Marian, a 50-year old member of the 865 series recently. The high series tied the second highest ever rolled in a sanctioned league or tournament play and oddly enough the other 865 was rolled by the same Marian on the same pair of alleys in Chicago, on April 7, 1947. Marian opened his latest 865 with a 269 and then posted a pair of 298 counts. A 6-10 leave spoiled a 300 in his second game and a 4-9 leave stopped the third game. In his first 865 Marian posted games of 289, 300 and 276. Allie Brandt, diminutive 125 pound bowler of Lockport, N.Y., holds the all-time high series count of 886. He rolled 297, 289 and 300 in the Lockport Major league on October 25, 1939.

With the addition of the Wampum and Bessemer, there will be real tight opposition in the City Baseball league this year. Should the Lawrence Indians and the U-R's maintain the same pace they did last season, likewise Wampum and Bessemer, games between those teams will attract mammoth crowds.

Coming up is a welterweight title fight between Johnny Bratton and Kid Gavilan. When the NBA handed Bratton the title when Sugar Ray Robinson won the middleweight crown, it caused a furore among Gavilan's followers who believe that titles should be won and lost in the ring and not handed around like bouquets.

DiMaggio May Rewed His Divorced Wife

HOLLYWOOD, April 2.—(INS)—Joe DiMaggio says that he and his ex-wife, actress Dorothy Arnold, may get married again, although it is a little premature to discuss the matter now.

The question of whether a reconciliation was in prospect was put to the baseball star by telephone yesterday. He is in Phoenix and Miss Arnold is there, too, watching the Yankees wind up their spring training.

The Yankee ace said: "Not on this visit, but there is a strong possibility that there may be a reconciliation later."

"Dorothy and I are very good friends. She will bring our son to visit me in New York and it is very possible that we may marry then."

Set Goal For Cancer Crusade

Need $20,000 For Expanding Program

Edwin O. Feass, and Mrs. Blake H. Waldo, co-chairmen of the 1951 cancer crusade for funds, have announced that a goal of $20,000 has been set for this campaign.

The county unit went over the $16,000 quota of last year and this year due to the expansion of services, and its huge educational program, is in need of approximately $20,000.

In 1950, the county cancer society mailed and distributed approximately 100,000 pieces of literature, which educationally, served not to attempt to teach laymen the diagnosis cancer, but whose purpose was simply to impress upon people the importance of seeking medical advice promptly when unusual symptoms present themselves.

Other cancer services include technician training, a nurses program, a film and speaker's bureau, and certain medications available to medically indigents.

Also, 25 percent of all cancer contributions in Pennsylvania is automatically earmarked for cancer research under the guidance of the National Research Council. A portion of this is then used by national and state organizations, and over 40 percent is returned to Lawrence county for approved projects.

Pool Of Lawyers For Probes Urged In U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R) Me., said today that since the Senate is going in so heavily for investigating that it ought to set up a standing pool of lawyers and other personnel.

The Senate's only woman member said that the present hit-or-miss method of getting staffs together for special investigations is unsatisfactory both from the point of view of the committees and of the lawyers, accountants and investigators that are hired.

Mrs. Smith recommended a pool of permanently employed personnel, to be drawn upon as needed by Senate committees—and staffed by members picked by the minority as well as by the majority.

The first appendix operation in the United States was performed by Dr. R. J. Hall of New York, May 8, 1886.

TELLS ABOUT WONDERFUL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Mrs. Katherine Merrihue, beautiful and talented advertising executive of New York City, says: "I always rely on Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets to relieve constipation. They are a purely vegetable product and are so mild, so gentle yet so very thorough in action."

Note: For years Dr. F. M. Edwards, a noted Ohio doctor, recommended Olive Tablets for patients with constipation and its headaches, lack of pep and sallow skin. Olive Tablets clean clogging waste from the entire intestinal tract, giving more natural-like bowel movements—so smooth—no gripping! 15¢, 30¢, and 60¢.
